

Campmeeting

A Pentacostal Holiness Campmeeting will begin at the New Camp Ground one mile north-west from Arcadia, Florida, on SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 1st, and run ten days or longer.

Services four times daily; at Sunrise, 10:30 a. m., 3:00 p. m. and 7:00 p. m.

The teachings in this meeting will be on the line of full salvation, repentance, justification, sanctification and baptism with the Holy Ghost and fire, with the evidence of other tongues, as on the Day of Pentecost, Acts 2:4. The Gifts of the Spirit, Divine Healing and the Second Coming of Christ will be made plain.

Everybody come, praying with open hearts to receive the truth and enjoy the blessings of God with us. There will be a restaurant nearby. Everybody come prepared to camp on the grounds if possible.

Preachers of every denomination are cordially invited to come, bring your Bibles, follow us up on these subjects and correct us in case we fail to preach the whole truth.

Preachers in charge: F. M. Britton, Alvin, S. C. and Ralph Taylor, Belton, S. C.

Everybody Welcome

BRIDE TELLS STORY

Of Recent Tragedy on a Texas and Pacific Train.

HUSBAND KILLED BY RIVAL

Mrs. Van Ingen Says that Bouvy, the Disappointed Suitor, Had Threatened to Kill Any Other Man She Married—Bouvy in Jail.

Plaquemine, La., Oct. 24.—Fabian F. Bouvy who Thursday night shot and killed Professor Frederick S. Van Ingen while seated by his bride of a few hours on a Texas and Pacific train bound for New Orleans, is being guarded in the jail here to prevent possible violence. Bouvy maintains a sullen silence, refusing to answer all questions.

Mrs. Van Ingen in telling the story of the tragedy said:

"Bouvy persisted in calling to see me, but I repeatedly told him that I would never marry him. He told me 'If you ever marry another man I will kill him.' I never seriously thought he would do such a thing. When I alighted from the train in Alexandria, I found that Bouvy had followed me. I never saw him again until we were boarding the train for New Orleans. When he got on the train he paced up and down the aisle like an insane man and finally seated himself opposite me, telling me that he was waiting a favorable opportunity to kill my husband. I told Fred, but he only laughed and said there was no danger.

"A little later when my husband reached over, half standing, to get something out of my satchel, Bouvy quickly pulled a revolver from his breast pocket and fired. I think he would have killed me too if my uncle had not got hold of his pistol."

GEORGIA FAIR ENDS.

It Has Been One of the Most Successful in years.

Atlanta, Oct. 24.—Saturday night the Georgia State Fair, held at Piedmont Park, in this city, closed its gates.

Conducted under the auspices of the Farmers' union of Georgia, the fair this year has met with success from every standpoint, and when the big gates are closed Saturday at midnight, plans were at once undertaken for another next year.

Everything has combined to make the fair a success, and it is not surprising that it has been. In the first place, the weather, with the possible exception of two days, has been ideal and the attendance in consequence has been large and diversified.

The agricultural exhibits have been the best ever shown, and have attracted statewide attention. The machinery, poultry, livestock and women's buildings have been equally as good, and the Midway and races have been far better than ever before.

DROGGED ACROSS BRIDGE.

Remarkable Experience of Negro Preacher at Columbus.

Columbus, Ga., Oct. 24.—James Etheridge, a negro minister, residing near Eufaula, Ala., started to leave an incoming Central of Georgia passenger train when it made its usual stop at Girard, Ala., and just as he was in the act of stepping off, the train started again. He held on to the bars momentarily, and a moment later the train had attained such speed that he was afraid to turn loose, still clinging to the platform. He was dragged all the way across the Chattahoochee river bridge, a distance of several hundred feet.

That he retained his hold was remarkable, but he did not turn loose until the Georgia side was reached, when he fell to the ground 15 feet below. His injuries will not prove fatal.
